

ALIEF & SPORTS QUEST SOCCER CAMP

March 17-20, 2008

On December 31, 2007, Sports Quest was approached by Bethyl Independent Presbyterian Church to host an inner city soccer camp over Spring Break. Three months later, we were blessed and privileged to provide local area youth with the opportunity to take part in a free professional soccer camp.

Each day, the campers participated in opening scrimmages, shooting and dribbling exercises, fun games, and end of day World Cup competitions. On the final day, the children took part in a timed obstacle course, parachute sprints, a speed kick station with a radar gun, and played soccer with a ball that dwarfs the largest player on the field!

Also, Sports Quest was able to surprise a camper each day with a free ball and character award for portraying an excellent example on and off the field.

In addition to the soccer training, every camper gathered around for twenty minutes each day to hear a devotional on God's glory and why He deserves all the glory and praise. In the end, God was glorified as four campers and two parents accepted Jesus Christ as their Personal Savior.

Special thanks to Bethyl IPC, Fundacion Amor y Esperanza (The Love and Hope Foundation), Dirk and Raquel Cameron, and many other volunteers. Together, we were able to once again mix a passion for soccer with our passion for Jesus Christ!

be the glory because of your love and faithfulness.”
